OUT TO TEST ONE'S METTLE

The annual sports was held in two phases. For classes from 5 to 10, it was held on two days in mid October and for 1 to 4, on 25th November. The PTA president Mr.Sakeer Hussain inaugurated the event. The March past and the house wise mass drill emblazoned the dignified ambience of the opening ceremony that ignited two days of sporting euphoria. Children showed remarkable gusto to compete in all events defying physical limitations until the final whistle. The winners were given medals and certificates at the end of each event. The principal gave away trophies to the winning houses and the individual champions from all categories.

KHO-KHO TEAM MAKES A MARK OF ITS OWN

Fathima Nada has obtained the best Promising Player Award in the State Kho-Kho tournament held at Holy Grace Academy, near Chalakkudy. The school team put up a heavy fight to record two impressive wins before taking on the reigning national champions in the quarter finals. Though it failed to enter the semi final, the team with a fortnight of vigorous training camp as its stronghold was at the receiving end of laurels for its sheer determination exhibited at being a strong opponent to the national champions.

ROLLICKING IN THE GAIETY OF FIELD TRIPS

The annual school tour programme involving almost all students and staff got over by the third week of November. Starting with the trip to Mysore-Bangalore by Xth, the mega travel extravaganza found its climax in the one day outing to Kochi and Waynad by 8th and 9th respectively. The lower primary chose to visit Calicut and Malampuzha. All students wrote exciting accounts of tour experience holding up the virtuous spirit of being together with friends and teachers. The curtain falls with the KG trip to Calicut scheduled for 5th December.

Firmly Grounded Now All Set to Grow Up

Stepping on to the first double figure mark of our institution's initial establishment and growth wherefrom, every stakeholder is in a better position to take a reflective glance at the trail it has left behind. Ups and downs visible can be but seen as natural predictable vicissitudes of a system as it takes ground and gets rooted until its foundation solidified.

mind set. The school's outlook on discipline policy, among a few, is deeply ingrained in this perspective which impels a teacher to see kids as free creative entities to be understood, respected and nurtured enough to absorb social nutrients of concepts, skills and knowledge. Naturally, this approach confutes the all pervasive notion that a child is to be physically smothered, mentally tamed and spiritually overpowered in order that he/she becomes a self abiding but externally manipulated human robot befitting the mechanisms of social fabric.

Set out on an expedition to create leaders who can make a change in the society, the school lets no stone unturned to ensure effective instruction to the core which is regularly replenished through a rigorous process of learning and unlearning that beams the value of a growth mindset on a society that tends to operate largely on principles of fixed

On the other hand, as children grow up with a sense of being valued and corrected, self motivation sets in triggering the qualities of personal and social responsibilities forming a firm foundation for a fruitful life and fair society. Into that ideal goal, let our school, Ace, soar!

The Fallen Leaves

MEHAR - 8B

To travel through the past
I would like to remember
Those memories...
How sweet were they
Through the green field
In the blue water
Under the yellow scene
I flew as beautiful butterfly
The curly hair of mine
The rosy lips of mine
The flushy cheeks of mine
You are a beauty queen
Everyone would say
I enjoyed it
Because that was my age
I was the only one
For my lovely parents
They cared me a lot
As if, I am a princess
I didn't knew what is sadness

I got everything I needed
Happiness cared me
as a blanket
He beats me
She pinched me
Oh! The noise are disturbing me
Grand ma, grand ma look here
See this...
Oh! Very nice my baby
I would say
Yes, because that's what I am
To come from past
I didn't like to
But this is the reality
Which I am forced to admit
Those days from those memories
How tender were they
But they were the fallen
Leaves from the chapter of my life

Loving Teachers & Students

AADISREE S KRISHNA - 2A

I love all my teachers and they are very loving to students. They are caring and helping. They will teach us and tell us how to learn. Teachers at ACE are not just teachers they are our friends. So we can share anything with our teachers. If there is any problem they try to solve it and give advices. They understand each and every student very well. So I can proudly say that these teachers play a vital role in strengthening the foundation of students and hence the school.

My Three Companions

RASHA SHUKKOOR - 8B

I think I am feeling lucky to
Have friends like them.
I think they are the Siblings which God forgot
To give me.
When they come to my life
I began to have happiness
Jolly enjoyment
We've had a lot of fun
But its time...
For us to get separated
May be this is the year,
We have got to enjoy
May be this is the last we meet.
I'll miss you!!!

GIYA

Chemistry of Childhood

GAZAL - 6B

Childhood is golden chance
A chance for celebrations
A memory of enjoyable past

Every human has a childhood
This is decorated by mischievous
Funs, quarrels, games etc

Childhood is a period of curiosity
A land for knowing new things
A blend of sweet & bitter experiences

The most nostalgic place
in our childhood
Is our school and home

Home of which is old and old School which is consisted of Naughty friends, questioning pinches

Still every person's thoughts
When he becomes old will
Be out their childhood
That is one of chemistry of childhood

I love my childhood

Televisions & Cartoons

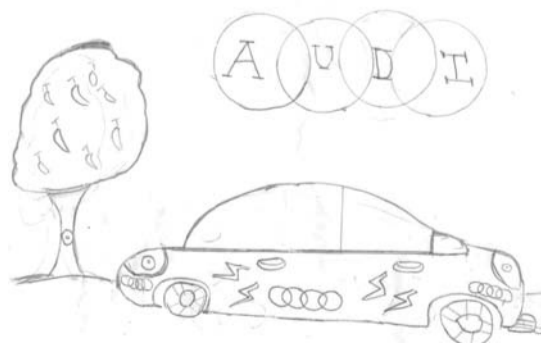

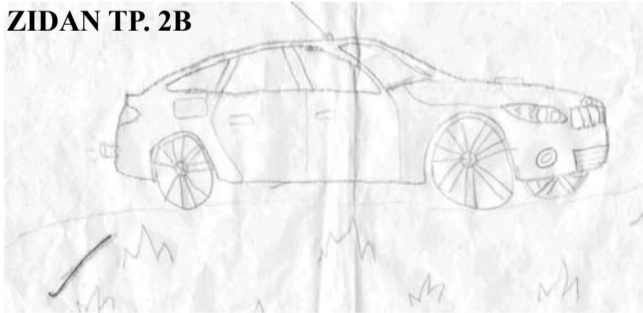

HARIPRIYA - 4A

Once upon a time, there were many kids who were addicted to television. They only watched cartoons. Then the cartoon characters got fed up. They decided to escape from the television. One night, when the kids were asleep, they slipped out of the television. They had lots of fun. Then the sun came rising. Leaves had dewdrops on them. It was dawn. The kids sat down to watch television. But to their surprise, the television had no cartoons! The kids decided to find cartoon characters. They escaped from their home. They spotted the characters. They asked them why they ran away. The cartoon characters told they were fed up of acting in television. So the kids asked sorry and didn't spend time watching television. The cartoon characters got rest and lived happily ever after.

A lot of us spend our valuable time watching televisions. We get addicted to it. We can't stop ourselves from watching television. Some of us may be good in English. They watch English cartoons and channels. This is some good things about watching television. Some cartoons use very bad language. In that way also children get spoiled. We should not spend our valuable time watching television, but do something useful like studying or reading books. Save time, time is precious, Time and tide waits for none!

WHAT THE WORLD BECOMES

Without any trace.

Oh! What have the world become
The hunger as thirst had thrown the land away
Oh! What have the world become
Even the Gods left the holly place
With hunger, thirst up sorrow

NASEEHA NAZER - 8B

Oh! What have the world become
Who is there to see the sorrow?
Is it God's or devil's land?
Once again I am saying

MEMORIES

Every night I talk to the stars pretending it's you.

It acts just like you through....

Far away and never replies to my questions

You made my life meaningful...

And left me making it meaningless...

I cry for the memories I have left behind

I cry for the pain, the lost the old, the new....

You gave me happy memories....

And made it sorrow memories....

You filled my heart with love

And broke it with tears....

Trying to mould my heart with fresh thoughts .

But memories don't allow...

You made me feel the warmth of friendship

And left me in the chilled world of loneliness....

I loved you, but can't hate you....

You are my BEST FRIEND!

I AM PROUD TO BE A STUDENT OF ACE

AMAL S KRISHNA - 6A

non-teaching and management is the driving force towards success of the institution.

Subject competency of teachers helps students learn better, allows for sharing of lessons with students in other institutions.

With all the above features, I am proud to be a student of ACE.

My school was developed to provide quality education to each and everyone who becomes a part of it. One of the features of my school is its focus on giving individual attention with a motto "NO CHILD TO BE LEFT BEHIND". It is entirely different from other schools with respect to its curriculum, infrastructure and human resource. A strong unity among teachers,

Every night when Mummy tiger said, "Bedtime!"

Little tiger would say, "But I don't want to go to bed!". Little tiger wouldn't let mummy clean his face and paws, and he would not listen to his bedtime story. One night mummy tiger lost his temper. When little tiger said, "I don't want to go to!" mummy tiger roared all right Then, you can stay up all night, little tiger went to visit his best friend, little lion. FOR TWO DAYS, WITH TWO CITIES

SALMA SUMAN - 10B

We started our trip on Thursday. It was approximately quarter to nine when our bus left the school. We started our trip with a zealous, enthusiastic and free mind. After about half an hour, we reached Areacode. We picked three of our friends from there. But unfortunately, my friends-Fadhiya and Fidha could not come. We were so disappointed. Our tour coordinators- Jaleel sir and Binesh sir initiated the cultural programs. Aliya came up with a speech. After a short while, boys formed a band which had no name. Their songs were so marvelous. We also danced for a while. By then, we had reached Thamarassery pass. Our journey through the steep slopes of mountain was breathtaking. As we went higher, the temperature went down. We experienced a freezing cold. Trees, valleys and hills- all were covered with mist. Those misty valleys and hills attracted me towards the beauty of nature. Many of us didn't sleep that night. We talked, sang songs and peeped through the windows. We also saw a herd of deer's.

DAY 1 :

I woke up from a short sleep at 5 AM. We enjoyed the beauty of sunrise. We had many funny and joyful moments all throughout the trip. Teachers who accompanied us- Bindhu madam, Nisha madam, Jaleel sir, Binesh sir, Babu sir and Noufal sir together named our trip. It was ACE BLAST 2. I really like the name. By 7 AM, We reached a hotel in Bangalore to refresh ourselves. I shared a room with my friends. Later, we had breakfast and set out to the nearest Bangalore metro station. We had a mind blowing and wonderful journey in the Bangalore metro train. We took many photos. We got off the train at the sixth station and went back to our bus. Our next destination was the snow world and that is my favourite spot. We entered the snow park by 12 PM. It was icy cold inside the park. We had lot of fun there. We slid on the snow. That was really nice. After leaving the park, we had a cup of tea to warm up ourselves. Later, we had our lunch. Our next spot was a museum- Sri Vishweshwaraya Museum of Science. It was a very nice museum. We have learnt many basic concepts of science. The museum also had some funny games. After museum, we had a visit to Lalbagh, a beautiful garden located in the heart of the metropolitan city. The garden had pretty flowers and tall trees. We really had a good time there. By 6:30 PM, we left Lalbagh and set out to Commercial Street for shopping. We had to walk about two kilometers from bus to the street. There was a dazzling array of shops selling numerous commodities in the street. I purchased a fluffy teddy bear for my sisters. We had a delicious dinner from a nearby hotel. On the way back to bus I really got tired and exhausted. Later our bus set out to Mysore. We really had a good journey from Bangalore to Mysore. A couple of games added colours to our journey. We reached a hotel in Mysore by 2 AM. I shared a room with my friends. We talked for a while and later went to the bed.

DAY 2 :

The next morning, we had not got up from our bed until it was quarter to six. After taking a bath, we had a vegetarian breakfast from Mysore Plaza. Later, we visited St. Philomina's church. It was my first visit to a church. There were large beehives on the walls of the church. Our next spot was the Mysore zoo. We saw many animals there- the long giraffe, giant African elephant, beautiful pheasants, slimy snakes and ferocious cheetahs. We had a long walk through the zoo. We left the zoo by 12 pm. We proposed our next destination as a biological stuff museum. We saw the stuff models of many animals there. An hour later, we had a visit to the royal palace of Tipu Sultan- the tiger of Mysore. As we walked through the palace, we admired the glorious past of our great kings. I was so surprised to know that the palace was about 600 years old. Later, we had a one hour bus journey to the famous Brindavan Gardens. We spent some funny moments in the bus. Brindavan Garden was so beautiful. It was adorned with large fountains. Later, we crossed a 300 meter bridge to see a laser show. After a while, we set out to Chamundi hills. We could see a night view of the large and scattered city Mysore from the hills. Later, our bus took us to a DJ ground where they had set up music systems, laser lights and campfire. We danced around the blazing fire with joy. We had our dinner from a hotel. At 12 am, we all wished our dear friend Shwetha as it was her birthday. We started our journey back to our homeland, Kerala at half past twelve. It was nice to travel amidst the natural beauty of Kerala on Kerala appiravi day. We watched the film 'Bhaskar, The Rascal' and gave a feedback on our trip. By 8 am, we reached Manjeri, our homeland. Thank you Ace for such a nice trip

A Class for the Best of Both Worlds

A motivational session from Prof. NP Hafiz Mohammed on 22nd and 24th October came as a shot in the arm for the Xth batch trotting to face the final phase of Board exam. Students were administered doses of self awareness in separate batches. That the parents were finally briefed about the crux of the whole matter was an effective step aiming at minimising the discordant notes in the strings of parent student relationship. Parents felt the programme helped them ensure proper support and build mutual trust. As an extension, a session is scheduled for the co teaching staff in the last week of December.

Voice of Kids for their own Space

The Children's Day was observed with a special assembly by 5 C spreading message about the childhood issues in the present world. It highlighted the tragic conditions of children from poverty stricken societies through video clippings depicting the ill effects of child labour. Wishing on the occasion, the school principal urged all children to preserve the innocence of their tender age resisting the temptations to imitate the adult world. Besides, kids should keep the sense of curiosity about the surroundings alive and foster a scientific temperament, he added.
